Sizeable Drop In Collections Of Income Tax

OTTAWA, March 2.—(CP)—Diminishing employment, resulting from the industrial change-over from war to peacetime production, and lower tax rates have produced a sizeable reduction in Federal income tax collections, government sources disclosed today.

LATEST COLLECTION figures, covering the three-month period ended Dec. 31, showed the declining process already was gaining headway, even though they did not register the full effect of the flat 15 per cent reduction in income tax rates, which was announced in the budget but did not become effective generally until Jan. 1.

The three-month totals indicated a decline in collections of $4,323,445 to $20,201,414 from the $24,524,859 collected in the corresponding period of the previous year. For the nine-month period of the current fiscal year collections dropped $62,871,750 to $120,133,543 from $183,005,293.

ACTUALLY, HOWEVER, the decline began before that. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1945, the combined collections of personal and corporation income tax and succession duties totalled $1,555,814,222, a drop of some $80,000,000 from the all-time peak of the previous year of $1,635,814,706. Officials said the prime influence contributing to the decline was the elimination in July, 1944, of the refundable portion of the personal income tax, which had the effect of reducing the individual rate.

THE WARTIME INCREASE in tax collections was the greatest in the Dominion's history. Back in the 1915-16 fiscal year the grand total of collections for individuals and corporations came to a mere $82,709,862, expanding to $142,008,138 in 1938-39.

The total decline slightly in 1939-40 to $134,448,566 but the following year began his swift upward sweep under wartime impetus, climbing to $277,138,291 in 1940-41, $632,367,996 in 1941-42, $1,378,042,813 in 1942-43 and the all-time high of $1,635,814,706 in 1943-44.

SUCCESSORS DUTIES, which the federal government began to collect in 1941-42 by wartime agreement with the provinces, rose from $6,956,594 in that year to $17,250,798 in 1944-45.

Individual income tax collections rose from $49,190,832 in 1935-36 to their wartime peak of $891,796,063 in 1943-44 before dropping to $820,541,971. Corporate income tax and excess profits tax kept pace with the individual collections, climbing from $42,338,971 in 1935-36 to a wartime high of $179,119,222 in 1943-44. They declined to $158,878,810 in 1944-45 and $178,022,353 in 1944-45.

LAST JUNE THE REVENUE department estimated the current number of individuals paying income tax was 2,650,000, roughly 21 per cent of the entire population. In pre-war years, the number subject to taxation varied from 330,000 to 300,000.

Keep Your ...

LEL CROSS

Strong in Peace!

Beginning next Monday the Canadian Red Cross makes its annual appeal. YOUR support is needed because YOU who have supported the Red Cross with such loyalty and devotion in war years will want your Red Cross to remain strong in peace. Your money, your blood and your work will re-direct this strength into important peacetime work for the health, welfare and happiness of our Canadian people.

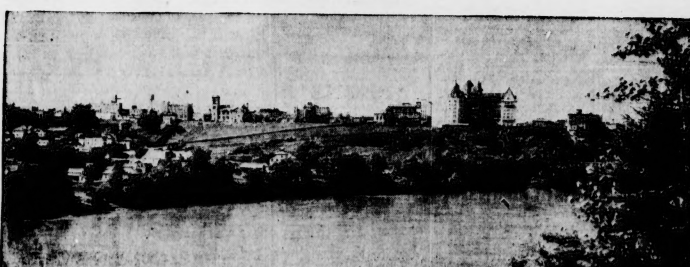

The Red Cross Carries On!

If, at the beginning of World War II, you could have looked ahead and read the record of Red Cross achievement during the critical years just ahead, you might have said, "But this is impossible." On the contrary you proved that when a country unites solidly behind its Red Cross and has the will and purpose to achieve greatly, nothing is impossible. That is why you are being asked to continue your loyal support of the Red Cross—as only through a large and virile membership will Red Cross remain strong in peace as in war.

Red Cross Announces New Civilian Blood Transfusion Service in Canada

Following a three-month survey of civilian blood needs in hospitals throughout Canada in the Fall of 1945, the Canadian Red Cross set aside $1,000,000 in 1946 for the establishment of a free National Blood Transfusion Service. Thus your Red Cross will be able to provide all Canadian hospitals with blood plasma and transfusion equipment free of charge, with the stipulation that it must be given free of charge to the patient.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

THE generally accepted belief in Canada today seems to be that we are going to develop our economy and insure full employment by expanding our export trade. This belief arises partly out of the conventional practice of the past, and the unprecedented development of our industry during the war years to fill the demands of our armed services and our allies. It is a theory which is fraught with danger and which we should view with great reservation.

Congratulations Challenge WPTB Head in Stand On Sugar Pool

Claims by Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, that a world sugar pool, controlled largely by the United States, Canada and Great Britain was a "falsity," according to R. S. Lee (S.C. Taber) when he spoke during last moments of the debate on the Speech from the Throne on Friday afternoon in the Legislative Assembly.

"MR. GORDON in his camouflage to the public has sold Canada down the economic river," Mr. Lee stated, and challenged the price board chairman to reveal the number of ships and the number of lives which had been lost during the war by importing sugar to this country.

"The sugar game is all across Canada," he declared, and charged that monopolistic sugar interests had sabotaged Canada's war efforts and her peace efforts.

HE SCORED THE UFA government which has been in office in Alberta before the Social Credit government, and charged that provincial interests by contracting with the sugar companies concerned so that no other sugar company could come into Alberta. He charged that the fact that the irrigation canals in Alberta were granted the privilege of being free from taxation, Mr. Lee declared, was for consideration of the advancement of irrigation in his district and urged that the government set up an agricultural college in Taber, where the students could be taught the fundamentals of irrigation farming.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

In view of the world's food shortage should wheat average in Western Canada be increased?

THE ANSWERS

HARRY NOLAN, clerk: It would appear that wheat average should be increased in Western Canada. However, the Dominion government should give the lead on this question, and in doing so should assure farmers there will be ample labor available to harvest the crop.

WILLIAM FRASER, bookkeeper: With reports of starvation threatening the world and experts predicting food shortages for the next three or four years at least it is very evident that an increase in wheat average should be made not only for 1946 but also for 1947.

PRED THOMPSON, salesman: Farmers in Western Canada have met all calls on them for food production in the past, and I am confident they will meet the present food crisis if the right lead is given them.

Edmonton Actors Plan Production of Notable Play

William R. Wallace, who directed the pre-war production of the Balcon Players has been engaged by the Community Theatre as director of its 35th major production "I Remember Mama". Preliminary casting will be done Monday at 8 p.m. in the Empire Theatre. This warm-hearted comedy of Norwegian family life in old Frisco calls for 22 actors; nine men and boys, and 13 women and girls. The Community Theatre extends an open invitation to every Edmontonian to try for a part Monday night.

CIRCUMSTANCES have delayed the reorganization of the Belcon Players until next season. Mr. Wallace was the obvious choice for director when the Community Theatre secured the rights to "I Remember Mama". This is the play by John Van Druten, adapted from Kathryn Forbes' book, "Mama's Bank Account," which many critics have prophesied will have a long run in this city. "I Remember Mama" is now playing its second year to capacity houses in New York. Walter Winchell calls it, "a brilliant, dramatic family portrait."

Takes New Post Policy Urged In Legislature

Urging that a national fuel policy be formulated in Canada which would allow Canadian coal to enter the eastern and central Canada markets on a permanent basis, Mr. J. Taylor (S.C. Drumheller) presented a strong case on behalf of mine operators and miners in his constituency when he spoke in the debate on the Speech from the Throne in the Legislature Friday afternoon.

HE BLASTED POLICIES of the federal government on subsidizing importation of American coal and urged that the federal government officials that Alberta coal could not supply the eastern market. He also charged that only the lowest grades of this province's coal were shipped to Ontario.

Before the debate with labor problems generally, Mr. Taylor asserted a need for miners particularly when he pleaded for a pension scheme for men who had worked underground for years and who were displaced by younger workers.

MR. TAYLOR SPOKE in favor of the 40-hour week and urged that this be adopted as a basis. He also urged that two weeks' holiday with pay should be granted.

"The closed shop" atmosphere in permitting the professions and the universities to keep out of the professions retain absolute control of the industry. He urged education was "free" only to those who could afford it, particularly in the higher fields. He warned that he intended to inquire into dispossessing money by the University of Alberta unless a financial statement was forthcoming from that institution.

In the international field, Mr. Taylor warned that the trade war—which had made possible exportation of millions of dollars' worth of goods to this country from England, Canada and the United States—was to continue, and he pointed to Social Credit philosophy as the way to a new world.

Daylight Saving To Be Decided By Municipality

OTTAWA, March 2.—(CP)—Daylight-saving time now is a matter for the provincial governments and municipalities to decide, a federal official said last night commenting on a statement by Mayor J. W. Cornett of Vancouver that daylight saving should be nationwide.

Mayor Cornett said Vancouver is not likely to go on daylight time this summer.

Federal regulation of daylight saving time as a power conservation measure in wartime ended last Sept. 28. The Ottawa official said it was "most unlikely" that the Dominion government would be concerned with daylight time except in an emergency and that any peacetime action would require a special act of parliament.

Goose, Dog Pals

Found wounded and weak in a swamp near Cochrane, Ont., last summer by Curly, Henry Osmars' black cocker spaniel, "Barney," the blue goose seen here, was nursed back to health and tamed by Mr. Osmars. Now he's the family pet and gets along well with the spaniel too. Barney now will readily come when called by members of the Osmars family, politely knocks at the door when he wants to come into the house, and has acquired a distinct taste for oatmeal. Although Barney and Curly act out of the same dish, the goose doesn't show the same liking for other dogs or cats.

Eskimo Girl, 17, Out of North For First Time

Starry-eyed with wonder at seeing her first automobiles, street cars and other outside world inventions was Doris Kerf, 17-year-old Eskimo girl who arrived in Edmonton Friday. She is here for medical care at the Jesuit College hospital, national health and public welfare department.

WHEN INTERVIEWED by reporters here Miss Kerf was in the McLeod building where she had been visiting Dr. Wm. S. S. Armstrong.

She was clad in a complete caribou outfit having lost all her other clothes when the hospital at Port Norman burned down recently.

Speaking perfect English, the girl proudly proclaimed that the garment she was wearing was made by her mother.

She explained that she learned to speak English from Mr. and Mrs. Watson who are in charge of the Hudson's Bay fur trading post in her home-town, Coppermine. She later went to live in Aklatik and attended school there. She is now in grade two.

MISS KERF said that the first train ride she had ever had was to Edmonton. Eye trouble is the reason for medical treatment here.

Thugs Overlook $7,000 in Safe

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP)—Police expressed belief the burglars who broke into the Goldenburg Furniture company store were clumsy and also hungry.

They gained entrance by sawing their way through a second floor window in the rear. After looking in a box in the safe of $7,000, they made a great four exit by sawing their way through a rear door. But they were so busy cleaning out a refrigerator of food they overlooked $7,000 in an inner compartment in the safe.

Debate on Throne Speech Is Ended

The debate on the Speech From the Throne ended at 4:15 p.m. Friday in the Legislative Assembly, when Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson read the traditional reply to the Speech From the Throne. Not a dissenting voice was raised against the motion that "an humble address be presented" to the lieutenant-governor.

The debate started with an address by M. Ponich (SC-Vergeville) on Friday afternoon, February 22 and 31 speakers had been heard. Mr. Ponich moved acceptance of the Speech From the Throne and when he rose Friday afternoon last to speak again on his motion, parliamentary procedure indicated that when he sat down again the debate was over.

Mr. Ponich made brief references to criticisms from opposition benches in which he said that while the claim was made that teacher's

Decontrol On Selective Basis

"Decontrol will take place on a selective basis, and by the end of the year it may be decided what further controls are needed," Mrs. Frank Conroy, chairman of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, told a meeting of committee members and liaison officers in the Prices Board offices Friday evening. Mrs. Conroy emphasized Chairman Donald Gordon's statement that the board must be sure that no form of price control reduces production affecting the level of employment.

DISCUSSING the future of controls, supplies and rationing, as the theme of the recent WRAC conference in Ottawa, Mrs. Conroy mentioned that rent control and price control on certain foodstuffs and articles in short supply would probably remain. Removal of subsidies will mean slightly increased prices in some cases, she said.

Regarding food, Mrs. Conroy pointed out that this is the poorest year we have had in four, mentioning the short growing season, while demand increased from the devastated countries of Europe, and from U.R.R.A. These demands put Canada back on meat rationing, and the alternative to the reduced butter ration would be to curtail shipments of cheese to Britain, she said.

SUPPLIES of children's underwear have been maintained as well as possible through production directives to manufacturers, Mrs. Conroy said, quoting Mr. Gordon's comment that "otherwise it would have been practically unmanageable." There is a tremendous increased demand for men's clothing; women's hosiery supplies will continue to improve; yard goods will continue much as at present with prices improving; production of linens is at an all time high. These features were mentioned in Mrs. Conroy's review of supplies.

SHE TOLD the women that their continued efforts in support of price control will be needed during the period of conversion from wartime to peacetime production.

Participating in the speakers' panel discussion of reticulating some wartime controls during peacetime were Mrs. B. Marles, Mrs. W. E. Stewart, Mrs. W. T. Wood, and Mrs. J. C. Hollingshead. Mrs. J. C. Buterworth is convener of the speakers' panel.

Following the business discussion a picture "Price Control and Rationing" was shown.

Home Aides Are Needed

During the war years hundreds of women served as aides of all types on many varied part time jobs.

With the cessation of hostilities there is need for the attention of women to be focused on what can be done to develop better Canadian homes; to give all possible care to family life. Many homes require aides, and many part-time workers have been released from industry.

The National Employment Service, therefore, introduces this plan to be of assistance to all concerned.

What is a home aide? She is a woman who has kept house for herself or for others who has had experience in the ordinary work of the home. She will be given—with out charge—a short course of lectures on home management and meal preparation, designed to make her work easier.

HOW IS a home aide paid? She will be employed on a business basis by the hour, like the industrial or other worker, at a comparable rate of pay.

When does she work? She may be employed for any number of days regularly each week. Some homes need the help of a home aide every day, some five days a week, others for three days a week.

WHAT ARE her hours? She may choose to work on the morning shift from 9 a.m. till 1 p.m.; the afternoon shift from 1 p.m. till 5 p.m.; or on the evening shift from 5 p.m. till midnight.

What does she do? She will be expected to do the ordinary housework duties. Perhaps she will tidy the whole house—or care only for the upstairs work—or look after the children. She would prepare and serve the meal, leaving the dishes and kitchen in order. She might be engaged to care for an apartment or house while the owner is at business. Her duties on the evening shift would be to prepare the dinner, wash the dishes, and clean the house.

Before a white-covered prayer table at the chancel approach, the scene was heightened by brilliant sunlight streaming through stained-glass windows on the modern clothing of the participants, the ceremonial gold and turquoise of the priest's robes, and the shimmering white of the flower-decked altar.

Given the wedding rings by the best man, Father Dzurman held them to the lips of the bride and groom, and crucifix repeated their sacred marriage vows. Rising, they reverently kissed the Bible to show respect for the vows just taken and returned to the little white marriage table at the chancel steps.

At this point, long white candles were lit and held by the bride and groom, together with the bride's parents, who had flown to Toronto from Edmonton to be present on the close friends in the congregation. A symbolic part of the service, the lighted tapers were held to "light the couple's way to happiness."

Peak of the service was reached when the priest with graceful motions and ceremonial gestures placed crowns upon heads of the bride and bridegroom. The crowning ceremony is demonstrative of one of the leading principles of the Catholic Church—that of the importance of the family; that the coronation of the bride and bridegroom is the church's recognition of the raising heads of the new family.

THROUGHOUT the service, hymns and psalms were sung by the congregation.

Guide to Home Builders

The quiet dignity and hospitable charm of Colonial architecture are embodied in this home for well planned building and comfortable living in this All American Home. White wood siding exterior favors a shingled roof; the garage and L-porch are integrated in the exterior design. Spacious living room with fireplace; square dining room and well equipped kitchen fill the lower portion of the house; the second floor has three cross ventilated bedrooms; and there is a full basement. The Bulletin Booklet of Small Homes is still available at a cost of 50¢ post-paid.

to which I belonged had come out of the line for a few days rest and we had requisitioned the Italian house, permitting the farmer and his wife to keep one of the rooms. The house had been badly battered about, and, as the battle had raged through that area about two weeks previously, the fields were scarred with shell-craters, and the vines were torn and broken by shrapnel.

"It must be heart-breaking for you to see your home and your country torn to pieces like this," I remarked to the elderly woman. "It is terrible," she replied. "At first my husband and I thought that we did not care to live any longer. But, you see, one ploughing will level the land, one season will mend the vines. If we can get seed, in two years the farm will be producing as much food as it ever did. If we can replace the cattle and chickens which the Germans took away we will be all right. In two years we should take a normal crop off the land. Then we can repair our home. Things are not so bad as they seemed at first." The old lady was quite cheerful.

We should remember that Europe is used to war. It will recover quickly. Once it has recovered, instead of crying for the products of our farms and our factories, their products will be competing with ours on the markets of the world. And in those markets Canadian workers will be competing against American mass-production and European cheap labor. This is a sobering thought.

THE IMMEDIATE future does not present us with a problem. But when Europe has been fed and clothed and rehabilitated, when our own people have bought their stockings, the washing machines, the electric toasters, the new suits of clothes, the automobiles they have gone without for so long—then how are we going to keep our factories busy?

When Europe's farms begin producing again, when Danish bacon is being offered on the London market, when Norway and Sweden's lumbering and wood-pulp industries get back to normal, when the Ukraine again becomes the flour bin of Europe—where are Canadian farmers, lumbermen, and workers going to sell their products?

NOW is the time for Canadians to start thinking about the future. Now is the time to make our plans for averting another depression. The war may be over, but our budget problems still remain unsolved.

Build Cold Frame Now To Install in Spring

Working drawing for standard single sash cold frame.

Every garden should have a cold frame, which can be used through-out the year, to do things for which nothing else will serve as well. If you lack one, the time to build it is in the winter, so it will be ready to install as soon as the ground thaws out in the spring.

The illustration shows in detail how to make a small cold frame of the standard size, 3 by 6 feet. To double it, make the end boards six feet, instead of three, and use two sashes, separated by a bar.

Boards at least one-inch thick of cypress, redwood, or some other moisture resistant wood, should be used, and the construction should be solid. If you have sash of a different size, it is all right to build the frame to fit the sash. Instead of glass, a glass substitute can be used, 4 inches above the surface, and

Passing of the Kilt
Draws Praise, Scorn

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN GERMANY, March 2.—(CP)—News that the kilt will have no place in training of Canada's reserve army units was greeted with mingled feelings in the Canadian army occupation force. Some men saying it's all for the best and others upholding the wearing of the traditional Highland garb.

Cloak and Dagger

"Nothing so far announced in Canada prohibits wearing of kilts for ceremonial parades and 'walking-out'."

Senior officers at Brigade headquarters in Varel, Germany, said that the kilt was a blow to a Highlander's morale and to "ways" of the Highlanders. The kilt was the best form of dress for operations and training.

"The question of whether to do away with kilts is far more a question of morale than utility," said one senior officer. "Pipers in the western district who carried their bagpipes across the whole of North Africa in order to march in full dress in the victory parades were worth their weight in gold."

Telephone Call
Saves Three People
From Coal Fumes

WINNIPEG, March 2.—(CP)—Three persons almost overcome by coal gas fumes were taken to hospital here yesterday after a chance telephone call to their Port Louis district home revealed their condition.

The three were Fred Tibbo, 72, and his wife, Lucy, 70, and their daughter, Anne, 35.

Mrs. F. Tibbo, said she phoned the Tibbo house shortly before noon and when Mrs. Tibbo seemed dazed telephoned a daughter-in-law and asked her to investigate. The daughter-in-law, Mrs. F. J. Tibbo, found both Mrs. and Mr. Tibbo unconscious and their daughter Anne, unconscious.

A doctor's furnace was blamed.

Minute Make-Ups

If you use an eyelash curler, always touch your eyelashes with cream before curling. Always apply eyelash curler lightly—the curler that acts as a 'curtain' for your eyes! Violet eyelashes are apt to look 'pink', so use brown eye shadow first, then the violet. If you are clever about makeup, you can put the tinted dot of red at the corners of the eyes and look ravishing. But, careful does it—willowiness to go.

Request Suspension Of Jap Deportation

TORONTO, March 2.—(CP)—A resolution asking the federal government to rescind or suspend deportation of Japanese was passed yesterday at an executive meeting of the National Council of Women.

The resolution, which was introduced by Mrs. Edgar D. Hardy of Ottawa, also asks that those who wish to remain here have their cases considered by judicial court, even those who previously expressed willingness to go.

SUPERMAN

JERRY SEGEL
AND
JOE SHUSTER

ON THE STRANGE SARGASSO SEA OF OUTER SPACE, LOIS AND PROF. VERN ARE ABOUT TO REFILL THE OXYGEN BOTTLES OF THEIR HELMETS FROM THE WRECKED SPACE SHIP'S MAIN TANK, WHEN A METEORITE FRAGMENT RIPS THROUGH THE TANK, RELEASING THE LIFE-GIVING OXYGEN!

531

— UNLESS I CAN DO SOMETHING IN A HURRY!

WE'RE DOOMED!

MOVING AT INCREDIBLE SPEED, SUPERMAN GATHERS HUGE ARMSFULS OF THE INVISIBLE OXYGEN...

...THEN USING SUPER-STRENGTH, HE COMPRESSES THE MASS INTO ALMOST-SOLID SUBSTANCE...

SOMETHING LIKE SNOWBALLS!

...WHICH HE DROPS BACK INTO THE TANK! THEN...

AMAZING! I TOLD YOU HE WAS QUITE A MAN!

THERE! I'VE TWISTED THE TORN METAL BACK INTO AIRTIGHT SHAPE! YOU CAN REPLY YOUR OXYGEN BOTTLES NOW!

LATER, WHILE SUPERMAN REPAIRS THE DAMAGED SPACE CRAFT...

SEVERAL OF THESE SHIPS ABOUT, BUT NOT A SIGN OF ANY HUMAN LIFE, EITHER PRESENT OR PAST.

HEAVEN KNOWS FROM WHAT PLANET THEY CAME. PERHAPS THEY WERE ROBOT SHIPS. OR PERHAPS THEIR HUMAN OCCUPANTS HAVE LONG SINCE MOULDERED TO DUST.

INTERESTING PLACE. PROFESSOR! DO YOU WANT TO STAY HERE, OR DO WE MOVE ON? YOUR SHIP'S SHIPSHAPE AGAIN.

I'LL TAKE A FEW SPECIMENS, AND WE'LL MOVE ON— IF WE CAN!

TROUBLE IS, WE SHOULD HAVE A LAUNCHING PLATFORM...

I COULD BUILD YOU ONE IN A JIFFY— BUT WHY TAKE THE TROUBLE? I'LL BE YOUR LAUNCHING PLATFORM!

A FEW MINUTES LATER, WITH VERN AND LOIS SAFELY WITHIN THE SHIP—

RIGHT, PROFESSOR— GIVE IT THE GUN!

IT MUST HAVE BEEN DIFFICULT FOR EVEN YOU TO GET US AWAY FROM THE TERRIFIC MAGNETIC ATTRACTION OF THAT PLACE!

EASY— WHEN YOU KNOW HOW!

AMAZING! POSITIVELY AMAZING!

AS THE SPACE SHIP THUNDERS ON THROUGH INFINITY...

LOOK! A HEAVILY ARMED ROCKET CRAFT BEARING DOWN ON US FROM EACH SIDE!

IF THEY'RE LOOKING FOR TROUBLE, I CAN OBLIGE THEM!

WAIT!

THEY SEEM TO WANT US TO GO ALONG WITH THEM— AND IT MAY PROVE VERY INTERESTING TO AGREE.

NEXT WEEK: SUPRANIA!

A FREE THINKER

AMONG other bad habits, Ginky loved to argue. He would argue about anything, but politics was his favorite subject, especially the rights of mice. He called himself a free thinker, which he surely was. One afternoon he wandered over to the teapot where the Chinaman lived and did the Teenie Weenie laundry work. The Chinaman understood mouse talk better than the rest of the Teenie Weenies and Ginky always went to the Chinaman to air his mousy thoughts.

The Chinaman had just hung up the last of a big washing and was resting on the steps of the laundry when Ginky arrived. After looking into the garbage thimble for any tidbit that might be there, Ginky began explaining his latest free thinking to the Chinaman.

"I've been doing a lot of thinking lately," Ginky began. "We are divided into two parts. Those who like to work and those who don't. Now you like to work and that's your right. I don't like to work and that's my right. Now, my idea is that those who like to work ought to be allowed to work as much as they please and those who don't like to work ought to be supported by those who enjoy work."

"You're just a lazy no-accounts mouse," snorted the Chinaman. "No work to support lazy mice."

"That's a very selfish attitude," answered Ginky in a hurt voice. "I let you work as much as you like without a single protest and when I don't want to work you always try to make me do it."

mice who all time talk, talk?" asked the Chinaman.

"Well, you enjoy working and you ought to have that pleasure," answered Ginky, pounding one forepaw with the other to bring out the point. "I don't like to work and I ought to have my pleasure, too. Now, if you support me that will give me my pleasure and at the same time give you more work, which is your pleasure. That would be fair to everyone concerned."

Several of the Teenie Weenies had gathered about to listen to the argument and when one of them snickered, Ginky flew into a rage. He snarled at the Teenie Weenies and walked off. As he left he pulled down the Chinaman's clothesline and scattered the clean garments all over the ground. Several of the Teenie Weenies chased him out of the village.

"Ginky has given you a lot of extra pleasure in washing those clothes again," remarked the Policemen as the Chinaman picked up the dirty garments.
